Start rolling in the SF Bay Area

This year TechCrunch Disrupt is expecting to reach new heights, including 10,000 attendees, 2500 investor-founder meetings & 1000 exhibiting startups. New categories like AI, CRISPR, blockchain, mobility, crypto-currencies, AR/VR, autonomous vehicles and space and robotics are showcasing at TechCrunch this year. None of them are expected to take attentions away from more "traditional" startup categories like enterprise or e-commerce.

It's an opportunity to meet all major players, VC and BA in the business under just one roof.

Networking & Matchmaking

Bloomberg. CNBC. Financial Times. The Wall Street Journal. BuzzFeed. Disrupt hosts hundreds of certified reporters, bloggers, and correspondents from around the world.

Networking at Disrupt is designed to facilitate the right connections by bringing together people who'll help each other level up. The attendees are talented, driven and focused and whether you're looking for funding, a key hire, a partner or an investment, they've created multiple tools to help you connect with the right people efficiently and effectively.

CrunchMatch - CrunchMatch helps investors and founders cut through the noise to make the right connections with the right people. It's a service that connects founders and investors based on their specific criteria, goals and interests. This gives founders and investors a more efficient, productive way to find each other. Once a day and time is scheduled, we provide a spot in our turnkey CrunchMatch area at Disrupt. Your ticket will give you access to CrunchMatch!

Workshops - TechCrunch workshops provide interactive opportunities for you to discover new ways of problem solving and how to accelerate your business.

TC After Party - While TechCrunch is all business during the day, at night they know how to throw a party. All of the attendees are invited to join for some fun on the 6th, Thursday evening.

Mission Schedule

Besides what's already happening at the conference (meet-ups, parties, and other network events) Startup Portugal will organize exclusive one-on-ones for you with the local AICEP team, where you can learn more about investment, the local startup reality, and ask for specific support on whatever you need to get your startup rolling in the SF Bay Area!

Trip Information

TechCrunch Disrupt will be happening from the 5th of September (Wednesday) to the 7th of September (Friday).

We recommend for you to arrive in San Francisco at least 1 or 2 days before the official start date.
