Discovering industrial tourism

21 MAR > 4 APR 2026

The Portuguese Industrial Tourism Network presents the fifth edition of the national initiative 'Discover Industrial Tourism', which will be held from 21 March to 4 April 2026.

In this edition, we renew our invitation to discover the country through experiences that bring the public, both national and international, closer to the brands, machines, trades and people that make 'made in Portugal' possible. In fully operational factories, specialised production workshops or museum spaces, each visit offers a new perspective on the past, present and future of our industry.

The initiative brings together a wide range of activities developed by the Network's partners — guided tours, demonstrations, workshops, themed circuits and hands-on experiences — that allow you to discover how raw materials are transformed into products, understand technical knowledge and appreciate the heritage that shapes the identity of each region.

'Discover Industrial Tourism' is a programme of multiple tourist experiences and a celebration of knowledge, culture, innovation and community experiences.

Discover, explore and be inspired. Check the programme of activities and take part in the 5th edition.

CAMPUSLANA ROUTE - WOOL INDUSTRY MUSEUM OF THE UNIVERSITY OF BEIRA INTERIOR

The Campuslana Route is a cultural itinerary through the woollen industrial heritage of the University of Beira Interior, created in 2021 by the Wool Industry Museum. It showcases former factory buildings that have been restored and repurposed as academic spaces, where science and innovation continue to weave knowledge. This circular route begins at the Royal Cloth Factory and passes through former industrial buildings now integrated into University Campus I. The itinerary includes the Convent of Santo António, the Veiga Royal Factory, and the former Wool Processing Company, following the Goldra stream. It reveals the city's industrial, academic, and historical heritage while promoting well-being and the appreciation of the territory's collective memory.

GUIDED ROUTE "ÁGUAS LIVRES AQUEDUCT: QUARRIES AND LIME KILNS"

A walking route of approximately five kilometres between the Alcântara Valley, the Monsanto Forest Park, and Campolide. Along the way, visitors discover the history behind the construction of this infrastructure, which was essential to the city's development, and learn about the knowledge and ways of life of past generations. The visit also highlights the role of the hillside as a source of materials for Lisbon, particularly limestone extraction. The route ends in Campolide, next to three former lime kilns, where their operation and historical importance to the city are explained.

GUIDED VISIT "THE FISH CANNING INDUSTRY IN SETÚBAL (1854-1995)"

The fish canning sector was the foremost expression of Setúbal's industrialisation between the second half of the 19th century and the first half of the 20th century. This route offers the chance to discover former sardine canning factories, whose industrial heritage continues to shape the riverside landscape, evidenced by the many chimneys that still remain. The itinerary addresses the introduction, peak, and decline of sardine canning, as well as the spaces of cultural and political dynamism associated with this industrial universe.
